

2F: Observe & Analyze 1

Lindsey Davis, MA, Lecturer, Psychology [00:00:01] Okay, everybody, so, as you know, this assignment was working on four of our course outcomes, and you'll see that those are listed on the rubric. Instead of seeing a grade on there, what you do see is feedback on how you're progressing towards mastery in each one of those areas. So what you want to do for this course in order to get an A is achieve mastery in each one of those areas, okay? So why don't you take some time to review those papers.

Student [00:00:34] I was able to go to the lecture that you recommended for us, and it was really good, I liked it.

Lindsey Davis, MA [00:00:39] Oh, good.

Student [00:00:39] And I know you said we would get some extra points for going. I don't see that written here, so I just want you to know that I went.

Lindsey Davis, MA [00:00:45] Right. I have it marked in the grade book. I just didn't put it on the rubric. But actually, that's a good question. I'm going to let the whole class know about that. Everyone, if you attended the extra lecture that I recommended, I did mark that down in the grade book. You just won't see that listed here on the rubric today. Also, I really need you guys to email me which groups you're going to be in for next week's discussion. If you don't email me, you're going to lose points, so don't forget to do that. And once I have the groups, then I'll be choosing the topics that you guys will be discussing next week, okay?

Student [00:01:24] She's serious about that too. I ended up with a B last semester because I didn't report, you know, what group I was in.

Lindsey Davis, MA [00:01:29] Okay, so next week we're going to be doing another essay. We'll be working on the same course outcomes. When I looked over all of your papers, I noticed that there were some patterns in terms of areas of difficulty. And so we're going to focus on those again for the next assignment and get everybody up to the mastery level on all of those outcomes, okay. So we'll be doing that for the next assignment for next week.